DAILY PUZZLES MEETTO CONSIDER MANN MAY VETO STATE DEBT CASE GRAVEYARD BILL

Attorneys Will Confer in Wash- Distinction Is Drawn Between ington Monday-Looks Good for Virginia, Doubtful Insurance Policies. Capitol News.

Counsel for Virginia in the State debt litigation with West Virginia will meet in Washington next Monday and go encertilly over the report of Special Master Charles E. Littlefield, which was filed Thursday in the Supreme Court of the United States. Tose who are called to meet at that time are: Attorney-General Samuel W. Williams, counsel for the State; ex-Attorney-General William A. Anderson. Counsel for the Virginia Debt Commission; John B. Moon and Randolph Harrison, attorneys for the certificate holders.

Judge Williams yesterday received a copy of the report of the Special Master. He declined, however, to discuss it, or to intimate, in advance of consultation with counsel, what the next move of the State would be. It is understood that each State has thirty days within which to file exceptions to the report.

The impression is that if there are any exceptions, they will come for the most part from West Virginia, Although the attorneys in the case would not talk, the opinion prevails that Virginia has the best of the situation by a large majority, and that, while she did not get all she wanted, her claims have been to a large extent established.

Lit is presumed that after the filing of exceptions a date will be set for final argument before the Supreme Court. It is believed that the time for enterty would be a dayspreval to a country orpopty, a city corpse or a country orpopty; is the problem which is a bill covering the subject, and he is being asked to veto it on the ground the subject and he is being asked to veto it on the ground the subject and he is being asked to veto it on the ground the subject and he is being asked to veto it on the ground the subject and he is being asked to veto it on the ground the subject and he is being asked to veto it on the ground the subject and he is being asked to veto it on the govering the subject, and he is being asked to veto it on the ground the subject and he is being asked to veto it on the govering the subject, and he at bill covering the subject, and he is bein such prohibition excepting in certain specific instances therein mentioned, such as the Governor and county and city treasurers and commissioners of the revenue,

The Honaker charter bill is still under consideration. One section of this was returned to the Legislature, while it was in session, and it was corrected, but there seems now to be some other objection urged by its opponents. This bill created more opposition than any other local bill considered during the session. It may yet stand as passed. The Attorney-General has been requested to give an opinion on both this and the Norton bill.

The consideration of measures passed by the Legislature has been practically completed by the Governor.
